Erin Gray is a native of Orlando and has served in a number of executive and general counsel roles during her career, specifically within the financial services industry. Ms. Gray has been practicing law for over 16 years and concentrates her law practice in securities, corporate and general business work, including public and private company securities offerings, regulatory compliance and due diligence, mergers and acquisitions, corporate governance, private credit lending and commercial real estate transactions, development and financing in sectors including seniors housing, office and medical office, multifamily, self-storage, retail, restaurant and hospitality. Ms. Gray also serves as an out-sourced general counsel for her clients representing them in corporate, employment, compliance, contracts and other general business matters.

Prior to joining Zimmerman Kiser Sutcliffe, Ms. Gray served in executive, general counsel and chief compliance officer capacities for Orlando-based private investment management companies and their affiliates.

In addition to her professional activities, Erin is an active board member and volunteer in several community not-for-profit organizations, including previously serving on Habitat for Humanity of Greater Orlando & Osceola County's board of directors for a decade, including as its chair. Ms. Gray was recognized in 2016 as one of the Orlando Business Journal's "40 under 40."
